

TRIBUTE TO GEN. JOHN
SHALIKASHVILI

• Mr. DODD. Mr. President. I rise today to pay tribute to Gen. John Shalikashvili. His life's story is one of the greatest in our Nation's history. General Shali, as he is affectionately known, came to this country when he was 16, and after graduating from college, he was drafted into the U.S. military. During his 39 years of public service, he rose from the ranks of Army private to the highest military office in the land. He is an embodiment of the principles for which this Nation stands, and I would like to pay tribute to him on the occasion of his retirement earlier this year as the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Anyone he worked with will tell you that he did a tremendous job as Chairman. During these times of military downsizing, he has been responsible for shaping a military that is smaller, but better. In order to do so, he had to ensure that our troops were better prepared and better equipped than any other force in the world. He succeeded mightily.

During his tenure as Chairman, U.S. troops were tested in more than 40 operations. In places like Bosnia, Haiti, and Iraq our troops performed superbly in their efforts to defend democracy and further the cause of peace.

General Shalikashvili's courage and bravery were unquestioned, as evidenced by the Bronze Star he earned for his combat service in the Vietnam war. But what made General Shali such an effective leader was his compassion, and his ability to understand the human element of military operations.

He was the head of the 1991 operation to provide relief to the Iraqi Kurds who had been exiled from their homes by Saddam Hussein. Thousands of men, women, and children were dying in the mountains of northern Iraq and eastern Turkey, and he helped many of these families return to their homes, personally providing comfort to these individuals who were sick and suffering.

America's troops could look at General Shali and see a man who understood their needs, because he had stood in their shoes. He worked his way through the ranks, but never forgot his own past.

General Shalikashvili spent his 39-year career fighting to protect freedom, and I think that the greatest tribute and reward for his service came this past July in the city of Warsaw. At that time, General Shali watched on as President Clinton invited Poland to become a member of NATO. Who would have ever imagined that the young Polish child, who was 3-years-old when Hitler's tanks rolled in from the East, would 1 day return to Poland as the highest-ranking officer of the U.S. military and stand before thousands of cheering Poles as his native country was welcomed back into the family of free nations?

General Shalikashvili is truly an inspiration to us all, and our Nation is richer and stronger as a result of his contributions. I want to personally thank him for his service, and I wish him and his wife, Joan, all the best as they enjoy retirement together. •

DEPLORING THE FAILURE TO FUND A PUGET SOUND CRAB LI-CENSE BUYBACK

• Mr. GORTON. Mr. President, despite the efforts in conference of Senator GREGG and his staff, the Conference report provides no funding for a Puget Sound crab license buyback. I deplore this omission, which reportedly resulted from the House conferees' resistance to providing Federal funding for buyouts in State fisheries. Mr. President, even if Federal funding of buyouts in State fisheries was not specifically authorized, as it is, in section 312 of the Sustainable Fisheries Act of 1996, I firmly believe that the Federal Government has a particular responsibility to the nontribal commercial Dungeness crabbers in Puget Sound who have lost 50 percent of their stock as a result of a Federal court interpretation of a Federal treaty.

This is not an instance in which the hardship the buyout would have alleviated resulted from past actions or inactions on the part of commercial fishers. Overfishing and poor management are not to blame. Rather, this hardship was judicially imposed. In 1995, a Federal district court determined that Indian tribes were entitled by Federal treaty to take up to 50 percent of the harvestable shellfish. The small, 250 vessel non-tribal commercial Puget Sound crab fishery that had existed for generations, was suddenly overwhelmed. I understand that because of the Federal court order, there are now about 450 additional tribal crab fishers.

Mr. President, the majority of the nontribal commercial crabbers in Puget Sound are self-employed. The vessels they own may account for a large portion of their assets. As the Governor of Washington State, Gary Locke, has stated, "The federal court action leaves them in a difficult financial position with vessels, equipment and related debt tied to an occupation that is no longer viable at its current licensed capacity." Again, I deeply regret the House conferees' failure to assume Federal responsibility for the consequence of a Federal action. •

SUBMITTING CHANGES TO THE
BUDGET RESOLUTION AGGRE-
GATES AND APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE ALLOCATION

• Mr. DOMENICI. Mr. President, section 314(b)(2) of the Congressional Budget Act, as amended, requires the chairman of the Senate Budget Committee to adjust the appropriate budgetary aggregates and the allocation for the Appropriations Committee to reflect additional new budget authority and outlays for an appropriation for arrears for international organizations, international peacekeeping, and multilateral development banks.
